Carbon Markets Service Overview

S&P Global Commodity Insights' Carbon Markets Service offers relevant insight into the trends that shape carbon markets across a large range of project types, geographies and standards. This focused view of the global carbon landscape empowers users to seize a once in a generation opportunity within the energy transition. Through our in-depth price assessments, transparent data, and news and analysis, we empower customers to navigate today's global carbon markets.

Coverage

Commodity Insights' Carbon Markets Service coverage includes pricing, rationale, market commentary and news related to Voluntary Carbon Markets (VCM) and Methane Performance Certificate (MPC) markets.

Benefits

Price transparency within VCMs

Price transparency within VCMs in nine different currencies to provide greater transparency on what it costs to manage carbon emissions around the globe. Our carbon coverage offers the widest range of projects and vintages, including:

- Platts standalone carbon credit assessments (108)
- Platts avoidance-based credits (108)
- Platts removal-based credits (108)
- Platts-Viridios carbon credit indices (12)
- Platts Xpansiv carbon credit spot settlements (10)

Price transparency within MPCs

Price transparency within MPC markets. MPCs are awarded to companies whose gas meets the Platts threshold of methane emissions in production, helping the natural gas market progress towards a lower-carbon solution. Current coverage of MPC markets includes:

- Platts MPC assessments (4)

Latest news and market commentary across the global carbon markets

- Real-time insights on drivers and trends in the global carbon markets to help you make informed decisions in today's fast-changing environment
- Diverse range of topics covered, including technological breakthroughs, changes in regional pricing patterns, global trading opportunities, corporate strategies of global and regional companies, intricacies of policy and regulation in producing and consuming nations, key asset announcements, technological breakthroughs, and more
