

Corporate Social Responsibility Award Nomination Form

Corporate Social Responsibility Award

This award is open to all companies in the energy space, including producers, traders, retailers, consumers, exchanges.

The Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) Award illuminates the ever-important convergence of profitability and company values. Rather than an obligation, CSR is a voluntary commitment, which greatly motivates employee morale; is of fundamental interest to customers, investors and other key stakeholders; and is a key element of a company's character.

CSR will recognize the organization that best demonstrates leadership, commitment to sustained action and real-world impacts from across its business. The judges will seek a high-performing organization that has evidenced its positive influence on surrounding communities, promotes teamwork toward sustainable, long-term impacts and encourages active employee participation beyond financial contributions. Not only will this organization have established a commitment to society and its well-being, but will also have a compelling communications program that effectively conveys that commitment.

Judges will consider all sustained programs, possibly part of a rich portfolio, that are currently in operation and scheduled to continue through 2019.
